EVERY OTHER AGENCY

DOES EVERYTHING.
DELIVERS NOTHING.

PUT THE WORK IN THE FRAME.

For a video agency, the footage IS the brand. These templates put your work behind the text with a dark gradient bottom-up so the type stays readable. Swap the placeholder for your real footage stills.

FEED POSTS — 1080 x 1350

DM "STANDARD"

Left: hook/statement over footage. Right: the guarantee with a CTA button. Text always bottom, gradient keeps it readable over any clip.

HOW TO USE THIS

THE SWAP IS SIMPLE

In Canva, CapCut, or Figma: drop your footage still as the background layer, add a black gradient (bottom 100% to top 0%) over it, then place the Cold White Barlow Condensed 800 text at the bottom. Red bar before "TSA" top-left, red on the key word. That's the whole formula.

PICK YOUR BEST FRAME

The footage behind the text has to be your strongest work — sharp, well-lit, cinematic. A weak clip behind premium text makes the brand look fake. When in doubt, darker and simpler footage reads more premium than busy footage.
